THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, Editors.

Friday, June 22, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR, JONATHAN WORTH, OF RANDOLPH.

The Radical Government Proposed.

We have shown that the Howard amendment, which has passed the Congress and will be submitted to the State Legislatures for ratification, proposes not simply to punish "treason and make it odious," as we understand our friend, Capt. Settle, of Rockingham, is anxious to do, though he was among the first of the "traitors," but radically to change the organic character of the government. The friends of the proposed amendment, unable to resist the paramount claims of the Constitution as it now reads, which unmistakably sustains the policy of President Johnson—anxious to close the eyes of the nation to the force of the logic of their own reasonings upon the subject, which equally sustains the President's position,—have determined to blot out of existence the Federal Union, and convert a government of equal federated States in to a central consolidation, controlling and regulating and exhausting all the powers of government, and constituting the States mere Executive dependencies of the one great central despotism.

From the force of the most simple reasoning upon the real character of the proposed Howard amendment, the friends of the measure can not escape. The conclusion is inevitable. And we beg to call the attention of the patriotic press, both North and South,—those who really love the old Union and the old government,—to this clear developement of the wicked designs of the Radical Congress. Many of these very men were forward in forcing upon the South secession, to break up the old Union. Finding Andrew Johnson and the Constitution now standing, as breakwaters, against their efforts, they have determined to destroy the Federal Union itself, by amending, or rather annihilating, the old Constitution, by merging all the powers reserved to the States in this Central Government.

And yet, the man who has held the relation of a leader in North Carolina—the man who accepted the position of Provisional Governor of North Carolina for the purpose of restoring the Union—counsels his friends, counsels the State Convention, composed of a majority of those who voted for him and act with him, to adopt in advance, this iniquitous scheme of the Radical Congress, to destroy the Federal Union.

It has been bruited about on the streets for days, that the plan was concocted and hawked about by the man Friday of the Ex. Prov. Governor for signatures, to subordinate the Convention to the schemes of the majority, and thus stultify and outrage the feelings of the people of North Carolina.

Every effort has been publicly and privately and insidiously made, from what we hear, by the Ex. P. G. to commit the Convention, in some form, to this nefarious and wicked scheme.—Men of sense and independence of thought, have been approached by the plea, "it is the best we can get—we had better swallow it in advance, it will be better for us." Such is the cowardly, dastardly plea of those who talk swelling words when no danger is nigh, but tremble like an aspen at the first approach of harm.

"It is the best we can get." We do not believe it. If the patriotic, Union loving press of the North will open their batteries manfully, and if the true men of the North will do their whole duty, and exhibit the true spirit of self sacrifice and real love of country, in preference to party, that they ought to do, this monstrous iniquity will be quelched. All that is wanting is manly resistance, true patriotic ardor, in the cause of the old Union, to bury the whole scheme in oblivion.

But what if we can get no better, ought we to be guilty of the crime of suicide, or welcome death by imbruing our hands in our own blood. Ought we, though conquered and poor and trodden down, to be willing to tear down upon our own heads the ruin which the scheme will entail upon our children after us? Never, never.

While there is hope of the preservation of the Union—of a government which cost the blood and treasure of our fathers, let the true men of North Carolina, and of the whole land, manfully resist to the end. When offensive measures become the law of the land, it is time enough then to submit: but until they are clothed with the sanctity of the law, let all true patriots battle against them. Let others strike down the principles of civil and religious liberty as embodied in the organism of the government, if they will madly do it, but North Carolinians should stand firmly upon their feet to resist the blow!

THE FUNERAL services of the late Hon. W. W. Seaton, in Washington, were of the most imposing character. The various municipal offices were closed, and the officers of the corporation, the Knights Templar and Grand Lodge of Masons, the Typographical Society, Bookbinders Association, &c., were in the cortege. Hon. W. H. Seward, Judge Wayne and the Baron Gerolt were among the pall-bearers. Among other distinguished gentlemen present were the Postmaster General, the French, Prussian, Russian, Chilian, Peruvian and Danish Ministers, Gens. Banks, Meigs and Ekin, and Hon. L. F. S. Foster.

Public Printing.

We are pleased to be able to announce that the printing of the Laws and Journals of the first session of the Legislature, the Laws and Journals of the called and adjourned sessions of the Legislature, as well as the Laws passed from 1859 to 1864, ordered by the Legislature to be re-printed, and the Journals of 1864-5, have all been printed and are now in the hands of the binder.

OUR READERS will bear us witness that we have not, since the establishment of our paper, indulged in any acrimonious line of comment against those properly known to be Union men. The pretenders, the self-styled, and "so-called," we have not hesitated, and shall not cease, to hold up to the public contempt. We shall, as hitherto, omit no opportunity of stripping the wolves in sheep's clothing or the asses in lion's skin of their false and stolen garb. Our object has been to efface the marks of the war and to soothe the embittered feeling on both sides in our own midst, where such existed. Such did exist only to a very limited extent, until the latter stages of the war; for none will deny that, in the outset, no revolution was ever begun under auspices of greater unanimity.

But the intimation is made that, though such may have been our policy with reference to the condition of public sentiment at home, and among our own people, we may occasionally have pursued a course which was calculated to intensify, rather than calm, sectional animosities. We have attacked, we admit, the Congressional Jacobins, and their sympathizers, who, so far from being the friends of the Union, the President has found it necessary to denounce from his high place as traitors and disunionists. But no others have we assailed. If there be those in this State,—as we fear there are,—who sympathize with Sumner and Thad. Stevens, and the iniquitous schemes of which they have been the authors and originators, they have come within the range of our condemnation, and have received, as they merited, our censure. But we have not abused those who merely differed from us, nor even those who fought against us in the late war. Our aim has been to quiet excited feeling, reconcile conflicting opinions and modify harsh judgments, and, as far as was possible, cover up the bloody and exasperating memories of the past five years.

Those who charge us with a different course are themselves the very men who have sought to keep alive the flames of sectional excitement. Their constant reference to "rebels," and "rebel sympathizers," "traitors" and "treason," is both calculated and studiously designed to perpetuate prejudices, keep up bitter feelings, and to compass, if possible, the proscription and persecution of those who adhered to the fortunes of their State, during all the varying phases of the war, and who are not yet prepared to stultify themselves by swearing that they regret the part they acted, or to falsify by denying their agency in the struggle. No truthful man can deny but that these men are now better devoting themselves to the work of harmony and reconciliation than any other class. They are, so far as we know, earnestly seeking the restoration of their shattered individual fortunes, and engaged in the peaceful pursuits of industry. They acquiesce in the result; and every effort to brand them, in their retirement, with opprobrious epithets, or to heap personal contumely or political evil upon them, we shall at all times resist,—let that effort come from what quarter it may, from Northern Jacobins or from, what is far worse, Southern Radicals or renegades.

Basis of Representation.

The following conclusion of a sensible article on the basis of representation from that truly conservative paper, the Old North State, at Salisbury, meets our approbation. This view, it strikes us, commends itself to the cool judgment of every conservative friend of safe and good government. The more popular theory might answer, in a perfected state of human society, governed by the restraints of a sound and high toned morality, but at the present time in this country, when lawlessness and the spirit of agrarianism and the urgent demands of an infatuated majority are clamoring for negro suffrage, the removal of property from the special guardianship of the Legislative departments of the State would be hazardous in the extreme.

The Old North State says:

But, apart from all considerations of this character, there are others, affecting the fundamental principles of Government, that have great weight. The two Houses are intended to act as mutual checks upon each other, and therefore they ought to represent different interests. If both Houses were elected by the same constituents, and represented the same interests, they would rather be two co-ordinate Houses of Commons—two popular bodies, rather than a popular body held in check by a conservative body. The true theory of a free government is a balanced republic. One interest should be balanced against, and serve as a check upon, the other. Property should be balanced by numbers. Make suffrage universal—strike out property qualifications for members of the Legislature, and base representation upon numbers alone, and we will at once start upon the high road to anarchy and agrarianism.

TRUE FRIENDS OF THE NEGRO.—It will be remembered that, some weeks since, the Baptist (colored) Church in Petersburg was destroyed by fire, and evidences were not wanting that the incendiarism was the work of those who were interested in arraying the blacks against the whites. The religious (so-called) press of the North at once raised a howl over the persecutions of the poor African and proposed subscriptions throughout the North for re-building the edifice. But Northern philanthropy does'nt take that turn, and never a cent was raised,—not even in godly New England. Meanwhile, the good people of Petersburg went to work, and, out of their poverty, contributed a sufficient sum to secure another house of worship for their old servants. And now seeing their way to its completion, the colored people, very sensibly, instead of turning the supervision of the matter over to the Freedmen's Bureau, or the Christian Commission, or some other such philanthropic agency, have turned it over to four gentlemen, former masters and old citizens, with the request that they will give out the job and protect them in its execution. What a commentary!

THE LAST report sent to Washington by Gens. Steedman and Fullerton shows that in South Carolina and Georgia many of the officers of the Freedmen's Bureau are, after the fashion of their co-laborers in this State, taking much better care of their own interests than of those of the "poor negro."

STATE CONVENTION.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, June 20th., 1866.

The Convention resumed the unfinished business.

The amendment offered by Mr. Furches, (substituting the original ordinance in relation to debts of the State to be hereafter created for the digest of the same reported by the committee on Constitutional amendments,) was adopted.

Mr. Love, of Jackson, moved to amend the amendment by adding the following proviso: "Provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as releasing the State from obligations incurred by the acts of 1854 and 55; 1858 and 59; 1860 and 61, and as preventing the Legislature from carrying into effect the provisions of said acts, in building the Western North Carolina railroad." Rejected.

The amendment as amended was then adopted.

Mr. Faulkner moved to amend the VII art. by inserting the provisions of the Homestead ordinance.

Not agreed to.

Article VIII was amended and adopted as follows; the residue of the article having been stricken out.

CONVENTIONS.

Section 33. No Convention of the people shall be called otherwise than by the General Assembly, and then only by the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members of each House of the General Assembly. No part of the Constitution of the State shall be amended, unless by Convention, the delegates whereof shall consist of the same number as members of the House of Commons and be chosen by the qualified voters for members of such House.

The Constitution having thus passed its 2nd. reading, was referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, was ordered to be printed and made the special order for 10 o'clock, A. M., on Friday next.

Mr. Grissom moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance for exchanging the stocks of the State for bonds issued before the year 1861 passed its third reading.

On motion of Mr. Caldwell, of Guilford, this motion was laid on the table.

An ordinance to divorce Mrs. Jane F. Havens from Thos. J. Havens was taken up, on mo on of Mr. Faircloth.

Mr. Gilliam addressed the Convention opposing the passage of the ordinance.

Mr. Faircloth replied, urging its passage.

On motion of Mr. Gilliam, the yeas and nays were ordered. The question recurring the ordinance passed its second reading, yeas 47, nays 46.

An ordinance authorizing the President of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company to borrow money, on the faith and credit of the State, passed its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, the ordinance in relation to State amnesty was made the special order for 4 o'clock P. M. tomorrow.

The Convention then adjourned.

THURSDAY, June 21st., 1866.

Mr. Burgin presented a memorial from certain citizens of Buncombe, and other counties West of the Blue Ridge, in regard to the Western North Carolina Railroad. Ordered to be printed.

Mr. Sloan introduced an ordinance in relation to the safe-keeping and publication of the Ordinances of the Convention. Referred to a select committee.

The Convention proceeded to consider the special order, being the ordinance to change the jurisdiction of the Courts and the rules of pleading therein, commonly known as the Stay Law.

Mr. Baker offered a homestead ordinance as a substitute for the one under consideration. Rejected.

Mr. Caldwell, of Guilford, moved to amend as follows:

Be it further ordained, That while this ordinance remains in force and effect it shall not be lawful for any one to confess judgment, nor to make a mortgage or deed in trust, favoring one creditor over another.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved to amend the amendment by striking out the words "nor make a mortgage or deed of trust favoring one creditor over another." Not agreed to.

The question recurring on the amendment, it was rejected, yeas 36, nays 61.

Mr. Conigland offered the following amendment:

Be it further ordained That no sale of real estate which was conveyed before the 1st. day of May 1865 by way of deed of trust or mortgage, or otherwise, for the purpose of securing the payment of debts therein specified, shall take place, or be of any effect, until the debts in said conveyance specified shall have been reduced to judgment, according to the provisions of this act respecting debts contracted before the 1st. day of May 1865. Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to defeat any bill which may have been acquired under any such deed, mortgage, or other conveyance. Rejected.

Mr. Boyden moved to amend by inserting a proviso that defendants offering offsetts shall only be allowed the current market value in specie of bank notes or certificates of deposit, at the time of trial—as against the Banks.—Rejected.

Sundry other amendments were discussed and rejected, and the ordinance finally passed its 3rd. reading as follows:

AYES.—Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Allen, Baines, Berry, Bingham, Brickell, Burgin, Bynum, Caldwell, of Burke, Conigland, Cowper, Dick, Faulkner, Ferebee, Foy, Garland, Garrett, Godwin, Grissom, Harris, of Rutherford, Harrison, Haynes, Hodge, Howard, Jackson, Jarvis, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyner, Logan, Love, of Jackson, Lyon, Manly, McCauley, McKay, of Harnett, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McRae, Moore of Chatham, Murphy, Norfleet, Odom, Patterson, Perkins, Person, Phillips, Polk, Richardson, Rush, Sloan, Smith, of Anson, Smith of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Hyde, Swan, Ward, Willey, Williams, Wilson, Winburne, Wright.—64.

An ordinance divorcing Mrs. Jane F. Havens from Thos. J. Havens passed its third reading, yeas 45, nays 42.

The Convention then took a recess until 4 o'clock P. M.

The President of the Republic of Liberia has written a letter, in which he urges the African people of this country to continue their exertions in favor of emigration. By all means.

Mr. Grinnell, of Iowa, lately caned by General Rousseau, has just been defeated for the renomination for Congress.

For the Sentinel.

The Ex-Provisional Governor has lately turned up his precious nose at an angle of at least forty-five degrees from the horizon, at the great want of skill heretofore betrayed by those to whom the management of the Bank of North Carolina has been lately entrusted. He laments so sincerely and so bitterly, that this Institution was "swept into the war channel,"—by which has occurred a "total loss of all the stock," and other disasters. Judge Warren, in a speech in the Senate, said that a whirlwind had swept over the land, taking us all in, and urging us on with irresistible power to destruction. This is true and forcibly spoken, and this might seem to furnish some reason why these distinguished gentlemen might have escaped the denunciation, and even the sneers of —— the Ex-Provisional Governor (that was,) and William W. Holden, (that is!) Heaven help all poor and unfortunate gentlemen, when they have got so low.—Tickle us to death with straws! Kick us into kingdom-come, with grass-hoppers! Give us the comfort of annihilation in almost any feasible and practical way; but save all christian people from the unchristian, cruel and inconceivable degradation, of being THUS sneered at! The idea even is insupportable. The actuality would be —— oh dear!!—please don't!

This "sweeping" things generally into the war channel, of course played the wild with this Bank, as well as all other Banks in the South. It becomes a question of curious interest, in connection with the charge of "reckless and silly financiering," so pharisaically paraded against these very excellent gentlemen, who got up this terrible whirlwind and storm? Who were the sweepers? Did our glorious Provisional Governor, that was, the amiable and forgiving Ex. Provisional Gov., that is, and W. W. Holden that is to be, (always with our people,) help get up this horrible whirlwind that swept over the land?—Did he sweep any? Did he cry from the tops of the chimneys, "sweep O! sweep," as he waved the Standard in the sight of the wondering people? Some people do think that he carried his besom bravely and did some pretty tall sweeping in them days. Those "five little letters F-I-G-H-T" did the business, and away went the boys to the battle, and the Banks to a general be-devilment. The boys gave up their lives for nothing, and the Banks gave up their good money for Confederate notes and bonds; and those who urged these reckless and silly financiers to this suicidal course are to be highly censured. Above all, should they not presume to censure others with very great severity.

Who was sitting in the synagogue of the Standard on the 28th. day of August 1861?—Somebody "sweeps" away on that day with tolerable industry among the money holders, large and small—the he's and she's—men, women and orphans. "Let them invest right here in these bonds." They were also good bonds—and draw eight per cent. The Bank was persuaded—and

"That's the way the money goes."

Will the Ex. Provisional Governor inform this anxious and inquiring people whom he loves dreadfully, who did impose on him in making those ridiculous blunders of type in the paper that used to be published under his name? How came so many "reckless and silly" appeals to be made over h s name, for the people to pony up to the government, (so-called) to put their fingers down, down into the depths of their pockets and bring up the Rhino? Who had the assurance to publish this call after cash:

CONFEDERATE LOAN.—We learn from the Commissioners, that the amount thus far subscribed to the Confederate loan in this City is $36,800. This does very well for a beginning, but the books here should be made to foot up at least $100,000. Let every citizen who has $50, or $100, or $500, or $1,000, or $10,000, which he or she can spare, at once invest in these bonds. In the first place, the Confederate government needs the money; and in the second place, it is a good investment. Money is just as important as soldiers. Thousands who cannot go to the field can spare money. Let them invest right here in these bonds. They can lose nothing by it, while at the same time they will greatly benefit their country. The bonds are good, if anything be good in the way of investments, and they draw eight per cent. per annum.—Aug. 28, 1861.

Surely while the respected Editor was eating his dinner, or saying his prayers, or shutting his eyes generally, some enemy stole in and made him, prospectively, very ridiculous.

Nothing can be said about the late President of the Bank, and the Board of loyal intelligent Directors,—only they were very glad to be relieved of a duty imposed on them without their wish, and, in some cases, without their consent previously obtained. It is doubtless true that there has been displayed no lack of ability in the management, last year, of the able President and Directors, because there has been really no management at all, almost nothing to manage. The veteran Cashier has been always at his post, doing his best, doubtless, to pay out what he could in the redemption of the notes. That was about all he had to do—and this he is understood to have done by himself, with scarcely any interference or aid from either the President or the Board, who rarely ever visited the Bank. Several of the old Board were present, the other day, at the election of the new, and showed none of the feeling which so agonizes the Ex-P. G.

The election was "unanimous." It is to be hoped that the heart of the Ex-Provisional Governor, softened as it is by the attendering influences of official life, will not break over these really fictitious distresses. The Bank people—those interested in its welfare from personal considerations, are quite well satisfied. If he will attend to his own affairs, and remember that he is now no Governor, and has no particular right to be poking his Ex-Gubernatorial nose into everybody's business, he may find his pathway an easier one.

It is nothing surprising, that in such an article as this, that the names of Josiah Turner and Gov. Vance should have been lugged in. Their ideas are always dancing before the distorted optics of the Ex. P. G. The only wonder is, that he did not add some amiable suggestions as to the most interesting and amusing mode of hanging Jefferson Davis, whose name was once so eminently with him an "honored name"—in the good old pious days when his heart led him to "rely upon God and Jefferson Davis." He loved our Jonathan once too, "with a love passing that of women."

Messrs Editors, can you not bring the Ex. P. G. to say one little word in explanation of that abominable 500 horse power? Some of these deluded five hundred are not pardoned to this day, and may whistle for some time yet.

W.

Thaddeus Stevens overleaped the Southern States in his last frenzy, and lighted on Maximilian. He denounced the imperial importation, and was in favor of supplying the liberals with the sinews of war to expel him.

A gentleman advertised for a wife through the papers and received answers from eighteen hundred and ninety-seven husbands saying he could have theirs. This is a practical illustration of the value of advertising.

Mr. Grinnell picked up a piece of the cane with which General Rousseau whipped him, and said he proposed to present it to Mrs. Grinnell.

The Standard Again

We regret being again under the necessity of noticing an article in the Standard's issue of the 5th. inst. In our last we submitted a statement rebutting the allegation of unfairness and partiality in the indictments for crimes in the Western counties, as made in the Standard.—That paper, in the number mentioned above, is more explicit in the charge than formerly. We quote:

"The Sentinel persists in the statement that Union men are not persecuted and oppressed in this State. We regret that this statement is not correct. There are at least twenty delegates in the present Convention who will state, of their own personal knowledge, that the Union men are being indicted and persecuted, while secessionists are shielded and protected. Mr. Caldwell, in the speech referred to, was even moderate in his statements on this subject, and properly so, as he does not wish still further to inflame the public mind in his part of the State.

We learn, from undoubted authority, that the excitement was so great in Yancey County, on account of indictments against Union men—federal officers, soldiers and others—that the militia of that county had to be called out to enable Judge Merrimon to hold his Court. We learn that Maj. Rollins, of the Union army, has been indicted for horse stealing, and that other federal officers have been indicted for murder. David Coleman, Esq., an ex-Confederate Colonel, is the Solicitor for this District; and we learn that he has carried his persecutions of Union men to such an extent as to provoke the Judge to tell him publicly that he must change his course. The Union men of the mountain counties have submitted to these persecutions as long as they intend to. It is not to be expected that loyal Union men will submit to an attempt to make their devotion to the government odious, while those who sought to destroy that government are screened from punishment. If the facts be as we have heard them stated in relation to the conduct of Mr. Solicitor Coleman, we do not hesitate to say he ought to be removed from office by the Convention.

Such are some of the fruits of the administration of Gov. Worth. Mr. Coleman is an ardent Worth man. So are all the rebels and traitors in the mountain Counties who are aiding Mr. Coleman in these persecutions of Union men. But what better can be expected when Gov. Worth sets the example by proscribing Union men in his appointments to office, speaks disrespectfully of a law of Congress, and declares that "unpardoned rebels" are as loyal as the President is himself?"

Thus it will be seen that the Standard has found a precise case in point, in the Editor's view, sustaining the above charge. Let us look at the statements, then at the facts, and see if they warrant such a conclusion, or justify an assertion so grave.

1st. The Court in Yancey. Instead of the militia being called out, only a few persons were summoned to act as guards, and why? Because threats were made in advance to break up the Courts, kill the Solicitor and even hang the Judge; that, too, without waiting to know what the Court would do. This threat was made in various Counties. In fact, the Court was threatened in Buncombe this very week. We assert, and challenge denial, that these threats were made by bad men—men who are in fact outlaws—who never cared a groat for the Union only as it served them as cloaks to carry out their infernal purposes, and who only raise the howl of persecution because justice holds its correcting rod over their backs. Some of the crimes committed by these men are absolutely horrifying; many of them having been done, at that, since peace was made in the land.

2nd. The persons indicted at Madison and Yancey courts—the Standard says, "Federal officers, soldiers and others." Why does it not also state that at least one Confederate Captain was indicted in Yancey court for larceny?—Did his informant not know that fact? We presume no one will doubt it. The Standard also says that "Major Rollins is indicted for horse stealing?" Why did he not also state that one of the most respectable gentlemen in Henderson county was indicted on the same charge? Why does not that paper state that the only man whipped in the District, so far, was a Confederate soldier, and that his friends offered to pay a fine of $500 to get him off, the Judge and Solicitor both declining? Why did not the man who informed the Standard of the indictment against Maj. Rollins state that an opportunity was offered the Grand Jury of Madison county to withdraw the bill in that case and they declined? Why did he not state that a majority of that Grand body were and are Union men? Ah! the reason is patent! Mischief is abroad! The spirit of the devil is at work! The truth, the whole truth, is not at all desirable to the persons who rave and rant so about the persecutions of the Union men.

The paper says further that Judge Merrimon was provoked to publicly tell Solicitor Coleman to change his course. This is simply, and in short, as we are informed, a falsehood. We dare the proof to be made. Again: "Mr. Coleman is an ardent Worth man. So are all the rebels and traitors in the mountain counties who are aiding Mr. Coleman in the persecutions of Union men." Mr. Coleman may have voted for Gov. Worth. If he did he is certainly 21 and has paid poll tax. But are only Worth men aiding to indict? We are glad to know that many gentlemen, good and true, who are assisting to bring all criminals to justice, whether they wore blue coats or gray, were Mr. Holden's warm supporters. We affirm, what is notorious, that in almost every instance, if not every one, from Clay to Buncombe, including Yancey and Mitchell, a majority of the Grand Juries have been Union men. We record the fact, also, with pleasure, that in many instances discharged Federal soldiers have set in these bodies, performing their duties promptly, and thus aiding to bring the guilty to punishment. Are they persecutors? A few weeks since a gang of outlaws attacked Mr. Penland's wagon on the Unaka Mountain, and robbed him of goods to the value of $1,500. The Solicitor sent a bill. Are these precious scoundrels among the persecuted?

"Rebels and Traitors!" How flippantly these words flow from the enemies of the President! and how readily they are caught up and re-echoed by men of the same stripe in our own unhappy country.

Our object in referring to this matter at all is not to keep up an excitement about it, but to correct erroneous impressions, and that people abroad may not be led to wrong conclusions about us; or incited to inflict fresh injuries upon us under the plea of punishment for our disloyalty. It must be apparent to every one that the men who raise this hue and cry of persecution are in direct opposition to the President. We don't hesitate to say that in some instances we know it be so. For instance—many of these gentry are open-mouthed in favor of the very things the President has vetoed, and are ready doubtless to swallow the radical-reconstruction plan at a gulp. Who then are the "traitors and rebels?" Posterity will answer with merited anathemas.

Now, if gentlemen wish to have this matter thoroughly investigated, let them ask the President to send a commission to attend the Fall Courts and examine into the true state of the country; and particularly into the crimes which have been committed, and who have been indicted; or if the Convention choose to do so, the end will be reached.

That commission, when appointed, will be enabled to see the true condition, and this fact will be developed—after the war closed, the Southern soldiers came home subdued and quiet—they went to work and have generally been peaceable. On the other hand, a portion of those who had been in the Federal army, (having previously volunteered in the Southern army, and deserted when its fortunes began to wane) came home seemingly impressed with the belief that law and Gospel were both at an end; that the universal harvest for crime and villainy had come. They went to work under that idea and crimes of all shade have been the result.—Good men of all parties are bringing them to justice, and good men everywhere say amen!—In making the above statement, we cheerfully and gladly repeat that many of these returned soldiers (we could name them) have behaved well, and they deserve the thanks of the country.—Asheville News.

REMARKS OF MR. GRISSOM, OF GRANVILLE,

On the amendment offered by Mr. Faulkner to section 9, article II of the Constitution, abolishing the property qualification for members of the House of Commons.

Mr. GRISSOM said that, in his opinion, there was likely to arise before this Convention no question involving a more important principle, or requiring a more calm and deliberate judgment, than the one under consideration. It had been discussed with zeal and ability, as appertaining to other official positions under the government, but its present proposed application was characterized by peculiar merits. It was a theory which had been most fully endorsed by the action of this Convention, that our government was a system of checks and balances,—every interest equally entitled to representation and protection and every class guarded in the enjoyment of political rights under the Constitution.

In this way the weaker interests were protected against oppressions by the stronger, and the many were restrained from aggressions upon the few. The rights of property, and the rights of persons, each guarded with zealous care, were harmonized in an equitable compromise. The strong arm of the one should not be lifted in conflict against the overwhelming numbers of the other. He hoped that the spirit of this great compromise, which was the harbinger of our domestic happiness and the palladium of our liberty, would not be ignored in the most sacred instrument within our power to shape,—the Constitution of the State. We were perhaps not legislating for a day, or for ourselves, only, but for future ages and for posterity. A wrong, thus hallowed and perpetuated, is of extraordinary consequence.

By the action of this Convention the Constitution has surrounded the Executive Department and the Senate with property qualifications, and now, in the name of justice and in accordance with the theory of our government, is the popular branch of our General Assembly to be the representative of the voice of the people in truth and reality, or in name and shadow only? Reject this property qualification in the House of Commons, and you place the white citizens of North Carolina upon equal footing, with equal privileges under the government. Adopt it, and you disfranchise more than four-fifths of the tax-paying white men of the State!

Our friends in this Hall, with commendable zeal, have struggled successfully for a basis of representation in the apportionment of members of the General Assembly, upon what they recognized as the true theory of free government. But let me tell them, with due deference, that, without striking this odious and oppressive restriction from our Constitution, they have caught the shadow and missed the substance.

You invest the Counties of a larger white population, with the right of increased representation, and at the same time disfranchise more than four-fifths of these very Counties from participation in this very right which you hold so sacred and so dear. To use an argumentum ad hominem, of what avail to you is a right, if you are excluded from its exercise?—What reason can be given for this exclusion and disfranchisement?

Why should four fifths of the citizens of North Carolina, possessing a like proportion of the intelligence and the patriotism of the State, surrender to the remaining one fifth the administration of the Laws, and the Government, with only the poor privilege reserved, of electing others to positions, to which they themselves cannot aspire? Its folly is only parallelled by the striking example of venality in Holy Writ of "selling a birthright for a mess of pottage." What is free suffrage in elections to office, with wholesale restrictions in the exercise of its functions and the enjoyment of its priveleges? It is the beaded bubble that floats upon the rim of the cup and not the cool and refreshing draught beneath the foam!

Upon our action in this regard depends the solution of the question whether the popular voice shall be represented at all in the administration of the government, or whether it shall be hushed in our councils forever.

The experience of the past should afford wisdom to guard against the evils of the future.—The powerful influence of exclusive interests, without sufficient means to counteract and control them, may be traced in the pages of history through many long centuries of madness and folly. Their advocates and defenders have erected monuments of their mistaken policy, so numerous, and so glaring, that a thousand, in repulsive form, greet every look and every thought as the eye and the mind survey the devastated fields of our late happy country.—North Carolina's status to-day, stripped of her wealth, her children, and her political power, writhing in humiliation, and weltering in blood, towers in this catalogue as a melancholy example!

Gentlemen seem reluctant to make this alteration because the old Constitution contains it. In the proposed reform, we need not be ashamed of the illustrious example of the great and good men who framed the Federal Constitution in its purity.

They required no property qualification of President, members of Congress, or any other officer.

The Washington Star of a recent date personals Senator Sprague as having appeared in one of the new patent turn-over family collars, and says "he elicited much applause from the Senate gallery." We knew that young gentleman would distinguish himself somehow before the session closed.

The London Times, commenting on the present "disastrous course of prices" in England, says that "consols are already at the lowest quotation touched during the most costly and disastrous stage of the Crimean conflict, while all other classes of securities are very far below the range of that time."

Senator Wilson is greatly exercised because the Fenians dared to put the green above the red, and presumed to consider either color of any account in comparis n with the irrepressible and indelible black. He has been to see the Head-Centre about it.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

On to-morrow we shall publish the remarks of Col. Love, of Jackson, on the basis of representation.

THE STAY LAW.—The Convention passed the Stay Law on yesterday. We will publish it on to-morrow in full, as it passed.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Piano Wanted.—Apply to the Editors of this paper.

Dr. Lacy's School for boys will resume its exercises on the 12th prox.

Mrs. Lacy proposes to open a School for girls, at her residence, on the 16th prox. Competent teachers have been procured, and we doubt not the School will be, in all respects, worthy of patronage.

Messrs. Pulliam & Jones offer for sale the desirable residence on Fayetteville Street, immediately South of the Cape Fear Bank.

Towles will have an auction on Saturday morning, and on the Friday night previous.

CAPT. JOHN M. SPRINGS, of Charlotte, received a severe wound, in that City, on the 20th., from the accidental discharge of a pistol.

NORTH CAROLINA PETROLEUM AND MINING CO.—It will have been noticed, perhaps, that the Convention recently passed an ordinance incorporating the "N. C. Petroleum and Mining Co." We are gratified to learn that the association, thus incorporated, will at once proceed to work with enterprise and energy. That there is petroleum in North Carolina, and that in abundance, we have never doubted, and its discovery and development will be a source of greatly needed wealth and prosperity at present in our midst.

The company has warrantee title for large tracts of valuable petroleum lands, located in the most favorable coal regions of Chatham, Moore, Rockingham, and Stokes counties.

These lands have been explored and passed upon by two experienced oil borers, whose valuable services have been secured to the company at considerable expense.

These gentlemen, having been engaged for the past several years in sinking wells for petroleum with success, are well prepared to express an intelligent opinion as to its presence on the lands secured by the company. They do not hesitate to assert that the indications, so far discovered, are as favorable to the presence of large quantities of petroleum as those at any time known in the celebrated oil regions of Pennsylvania. These men are now upon the lands, preparing to commence boring. The boring apparatus and tools, which were purchased in the oil regions of Pensylvania, reached Greensboro' on the 16th. inst., from which point all the machinery, together with a steam engine, is being removed to the oil section, and active operations will be commenced in a few days.

The officers of the company are as follows, viz: Cyrus P. Mendenhall, President; E. P. Jones, Vice President; A. G. Brenizer, Treasurer; and H. G. Kellogg, Treasurer.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—We learn that Mr. J. M. Blair, of Asheville, in this State, one of the most popular hotel keepers in the South, has become one of the joint proprietors of the Exchange Hotel in this city, and will have the entire superintendence of it. Immediate arrangements will be made for putting the house in complete order with new furniture, &c.—Ral. Sentinel.

Right, neighbor. Maj. Blair is the prince of landlords. The Major is now on a brief visit to our town, and we learn from him that he is going North to buy furniture for the 'Exchange.' The house will be open the 1st of August next, in a style unsurpassed in the South. Long life and great success to the inimitable "Geemes."—Asheville News.

A New York elegant is now arrayed in very tight pants, so tight that in the effort to stoop, the person thus dressed, feels himself unexpectedly straightened; sack coats are so short that they somewhat resemble a sailor's round jacket; the vest buttoned close to the throat. In addition to these, a broad turn-over collar of the Shakespeare style, and a narrow rimmed hat.—The prevalent color varies from a reddish brown to a brindle brown. Many of the most dressy dandies wear coats, vests and pants of the same color.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN NEW JERSEY.—It is announced that the negroes of New Jersey are moving to obtain the right to vote. Being tax payers, they claim the right to vote, and will offer their ballots at the next election, and if refused will bring the matter to the attention of the courts. It is said that wealthy negroes are at the head of this movement, and that Beast Butler has already been retained in their behalf for the legal proceedings that are anticipated.

A HOME FOR THE DISABLED SOLDIERS IN LOUISIANA.—A Soldier's Home has been established at Mandeville, La., under an act of the Legislature, for the relief of the maimed and disabled Louisiana soldiers. The site fronts on Lake Pontchartrain, in one of the most salubrious portions of the State, open to the sea and land breeze, with facilities for bathing and fishing, and within two hours' daily travel of New Orleans.

A young lady in Indianapolis has become so fond of papers that she chews all she can get, preferring the blue-tinted article, probably as a compliment to the "Union" journals. Her parents have to buy her a weekly supply to keep her from pining on account of not working her jaws. This beats opium-eating, arsenic eating and even dirt-eating.

A grand wedding occurred at Mobile on the 11th, at the African church. Samuel Jackson, a negro man, once the slave of General Beauregard, married Miss Sarah Jones, a white schoolmistress. The house was crowded by negroes. The friends of the pair afterwards participated in a banquet at the house of the bridegroom.—The newly married pair left on an early train to visit the bride's friends at the North.

The treatment of Mr. Davis at Fortress Monroe, as detailed in the new book by the surgeon on duty at that post, will be a topic of censure on the other side of the Atlantic, and wherever, on this side, the sentiment of humanity to the fallen is accompanied by moral courage.

Kossuth, who is living quietly in England, has received a number of invitations from Hungarians to put himself at the head of a revolution in Hungary in case war breaks out.

Substance of the Remarks

Of Mr. Eaton, of Warren, upon the subject of Property Qualification in members of the House of Commons.

Mr. Eaton, in reply to Mr. Settle, of Rockingham, who had insisted that all of the dangerous and mischievous measures which had been adopted in Republics, ancient or modern, had originated with the wealthy classes of society, strenuously contested the truth of the assertion, and stated that, in the Roman republic, the agrarian laws, which were intended to plunder the rich, certainly did not originate with them; that the plunder of the provinces, for the benefit of the soldiers, did not originate with the wealthy class; and that all of those who were engaged in the Catalinian conspiracy were insolvents. He also insisted that, in ancient Greece, extreme and violent measures were advocated by the masses, more than by men of property. He also said that, in the republic of Mexico, if a country so much distinguished for anarchy deserved the name of a Republic, its frequent and bloody revolutions had their origin among men of desperate fortunes.

In relation to the United States, he also denied that ultra, dangerous, or radical measures had been set on foot by men of large estates, or that the difficulties, which had involved the country in the late bloody war, were to be attributed, entirely or chiefly, to men of wealth, North or South. He remarked that the most dangerous legislators whom he had ever known in the Capitol, at Raleigh, at Washington City, and in every part of the United States, were men of desperate fortunes and utterly insolvent. In the course of his remarks, he spoke favorably of the yeomanry of the country.

Mr. E. also argued in favor of the property qualification, as a protection to poor men themselves, most of whom do not aspire to sit in the General Assembly and only desire protection for their persons and property. He said that when a member of the Legislature is the owner of property, he will be more apt to avoid oppressive taxation, inasmuch as he will bear himself a portion of those burdens which he lays upon the shoulders of others.

(From the Wilmington Journal.)

The Late Hon. Geo. E. Badger.

A meeting of the Bar of Wilmington was called at the Court Room, on the 16th instant., for the purpose of commemorating their profound sense of the loss which they in common with the profession throught the State have suffered in the death of the late Hon. George E. Badger.

On motion, Hon. R. S. French was called to the chair, and F. D. Poisson and D. J. Devane, Esqs., were appointed Secretaries.

The Chairman announced the cause of the meeting, and paid a short but glowing tribute to the pre-eminent abilities and lofty integrity of the deceased.

A committee consisting of Messrs. A. M. Waddell, M. London and A. Empie, Esqrs., were appointed by the Chair, who, in a short time, offered through A. M. Waddell, Esq., the following resolutions:

Your committee feel their inability to discharge the duty assigned them in language worthy of the illustrious man, whose loss we deplore, or which may faithfully reflect our own feelings in the presence of this great and sad event; yet it is due not only to him, but to ourselves, to express, however inadequately, our high appreciation of his great abilities, his profound learning, and exalted worth. Remembering the vast and expansive power of his intellect, the energy and irresistible cogency of his logic, the attractive and manly fairness to his adversary, (often stating his propositions more clearly and strongly than that adversary himself could do it) the inexhaustible resources both of argument and illustration, the demonstrative power of his analogies, from every department of the law, and the clear stream of his eloquence, flowing over the richest gems of thought and bearing the delighted hearer on to his inevitable conclusion, we hesitate not to say that no man has better deserved to bear the palm of preeminence assigned him by his brethren, or has ever worn it with more modesty, dignity and grace.

And while the committee feel that it is of Mr. Badger as a lawyer, that they are more properly required to speak, it will not be improper in them to recall to your minds, that notable and unprecedented fact in his political career which furnished the highest evidence alike of his statesmanship and social virtue, viz: that when he retired from the U. S. Senate, that body unanimously adopted a resolution regretting his loss.

To refrain from alluding to the sense of religious obligations would be to ignore the crowning excellence of his character.

That subject throughout life engaged his profound thoughts and most diligent inquiry, and it is gratifying to record that the first jurist and statesman of our times was also one of the humblest members of the Church.

Your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1st. Resolved, That we owe it to the memory of this great and good man to mark our sense of his loss, by some more lasting memorial than this hasty tribute.

2d. Resolved, That the Chairman appoint a committee of five members of this Bar, who shall select some member to deliver an oration on the life and public services of the late Hon. George E Badger, at the next term of the Superior Court of New Hanover County.

3d. Resolved, That we will wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days.

4th. Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be transmitted by the Chairman with the sincere condolence of this Bar, to the family of the deceased.

A. M. WADDELL,
A. EMPIE,
M. LONDON.

The Chairman appointed on the committee to select an orator, John L. Holmes, William S. Devane, B. R. Moore, Robert Strange and Hon. S. J. Person.

Upon motion, it was ordered that the city papers be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

R. S. FRENCH, Chairman.

F. D. POISSON, } Secretaries.
D. J. DEVANE, }

RELEASE OF RICHARD TURNER.—This gentleman, who has been for some months past confined in a solitary penitentiary cell, has been released through the intercession at Washington of J. Harmer Gilmer, Jr., Esq., who, with his father, were counsel for Mr. Turner.

We are happy that Mr. T., against whom no charge were ever preferred, has been restored at length to liberty after a confinement so long and so utterly unjustifiable.—Rich. Enquirer.

The 16th., being the aniversary of the battle of Secessionville, S. C., the citizens of Charleston signalized the day by showing respect to the memory of the Confederate dead. The Ladies decorated the graves of Magnolia Cemetery, appropriate religious services were had, the bells were tolled, and business was generally suspended.

CONGRESS.

Important Recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 20.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in a communication to the House, expresses the opinion, based upon his observation of the operation of the law of 1861, that an additional enactment authorizing resumption by the Southern States, respectively, of the remainder of the direct tax due from each, would, in view of the present impoverished condition of their people, prevent much hardship in individual cases and save from confiscation the property of many persons against whom the Government has no grounds of complaint, while no public interest would be injuriously affected by the change. He states that, should this policy be adopted, the collection of taxes, under the present system, might and ought to be discontinued, until an opportunity for assumption be offered. Whether the amount realized from re-sales of property bid in for the Government should not be allowed to the States respectively, in computing the taxes still due, is a question well-deserving of consideration, which is submitted without comment.

The Senate refused to take up the House resolution fixing a day for final adjournment. It was engaged in the consideration of the tax bill, and adopted the amendment fixing the tax on Cotton at two cents per pound.

The House refused to concur in the Senate amendment to the Paris Exposition bill, and a committee of Conference on the disagreement was appointed.

Have we a National Disease?

S. D. Wallace, Esq., President of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, [Aug. 30, 1865,] says: "It has been said that Dyspepsia is our national disease. However this may be, it caused me, long and severe suffering. Providentially a friend furnished me with a few boxes of the HEPATIC PILLS, and the use of them has perfected a cure. In my family they have been used frequently with eminent success. Among my acquaintances many cases originating from diseased liver, have been relieved and cured by them. I regard them as an invaluable medicine, and take pleasure in forwarding this voluntary tribute."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

A BOON TO THE SICK.

A AND

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, that magic, that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed dose to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS,

Invariably cure the following Diseases,

Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,
Colds,
Chest Diseases,
Costiveness,
Dyspepsia,
Diarrhœa,
Dropsy,
Debility,

A CARD.

Because of affliction and age which renders me incapable of continuing business, I now retire from the Book trade, leaving my entire stock and interest in the hands of Messrs. Branson and Farrer—except the publication of the "N. C. Almanac," which, I trust will be received with the same favor as heretofore.

In retiring, I return my sincere thanks for the very liberal patronage which the public has chosen to bestow upon me during the last half century—the length of time in which I have been engaged in the book trade in this State—and cheerfully recommend to my old friends and patrons, my successors, Messrs. Branson & Farrer, by whom, I am sure they will be satisfactorily accommodated.

Mr. H. D. Coley, so well known to the Book trade and to the public, and so long engaged in business with me will be retained as an assistant in business with Messrs. Branson & Farrer. He invites his old friends to call upon him.

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DEROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.
